EMBOLDEN™ STUDY OF NGN-401 GENE THERAPY FOR RETT SYNDROME

CLINICAL TRIAL
PARTICIPATION
SUPPORT PROGRAM

What is the purpose of this program?

Deciding to participate in a clinical trial is an important decision for patients and their families. When entering a clinical trial, the expense required for onsite treatment and monitoring may be a barrier to participation. This program lessens that financial burden.

The Rett Syndrome Clinical Trial Participation Support Program provides individuals enrolled in the Neurogene Embolden™ Study of NGN-401 Gene Therapy for Rett Syndrome with financial assistance for expenses associated with participation in the clinical trial.

Who is eligible for this program?

If you are enrolled in the Embolden Study of NGN-401 Gene Therapy for Rett Syndrome, and have expenses beyond what is covered by the clinical trial sponsor (Neurogene, Inc.), the coordinator at the study site will refer you to NORD.

- A NORD Patient Services Representative will assist you in identifying expenses for which you may be eligible for reimbursement.
- These may include expenses incurred as a result of the need for three-month relocation for clinical trial participation.

Alone we are rare. Together we are strong.®
